Jain Irrigation Receives “Best Innovation Award”

New Delhi - On 01.01.2015 the CBIP's Day of Celebration, Jain Irrigation has received National Award for Best Innovation in Manufacturing and Servicing in Water Resources. This award was given by Central Board of Irrigation and Power, Government of India at the hands of Honorable State Minister of Water Resources, River Development and Ganga Rejuvenation, Shri Sawar Lal Jat at Scope Convention Center, New Delhi. The award has been given for Jain Irrigation's outstanding contribution in the field of inventing, designing, manufacturing and servicing of effective use of water resources.

Jain Irrigation Systems Ltd. (JISL) has been providing modern hi-tech irrigation systems and innovative technologies in order to save precious water and significantly improve crop yields, especially for the small farmers. JISL has developed Jain Integrated Irrigation Solutions (JIIS), which can be adopted in canal command areas to increase Water Use Efficiency up to 85% as against 40% in the conventional irrigation methods. This is based on the concept of bringing the water from “Reservoir to Root” which includes lifting the water from reservoir, creating pipe distribution network, and optimum utilization of water on the farm using advanced irrigation and automation systems.

On this auspicious occasion, Union Minister of Water Resources, River Development and Ganga Rejuvenation, Sushree Uma Bharti was also present. The company's Senior Vice President, Mr. Somnath Jadhav, received the award.
